October 2-4, 2024

Venue:
Institute of Philosophy

Centre of Human and Social Sciences
Spanish National Research Council

The Philosophy of the City Research Group (POTC RG) is a global community of scholars dedicated to understanding the city and urban affairs. Philosophical papers on Madrid are especially welcome

Presentations on any philosophical issue about cities are welcome. Some topics include housing, local governance, conceptualizing cities, urban policy, infrastructure, distribution, urban aesthetics, recognition, urban technologies, water issues, food and the city, street art, energy, mobility, city life, urban culture, justice, the city in philosophy's history, discrimination, public space, immigration, examining specific cities, urban expansion, and defining the city. Presentations can be in English or Spanish.

For individual submissions, provide abstracts of about 300 words.
